

Name _____ Date _____

NRA Rule Book Section 10: Range Control and Commands:

Directions: In your NRA book, use the Table of Contents or Index to find Range Commands. You will use this section for the worksheet. You will work together as a group, but everyone must participate.

Range Commands: Find the firing line commands. Write down the commands IN THE SAME ORDER as they are in the book.

1. _____ .
_____ .

2. _____ .
3. _____ ?

4. If #3's answer is no: _____
Who says this? _____
Then who confirms by saying "The line is not ready"? _____

5. After all has been corrected and #3's answer is yes, the Chief Range Officer commands:
a. _____
b. _____
c. _____
d. _____
e. _____

6. How much time should be between the firing sequence commands (#5)? _____

7. BB Guns are now loaded, and shots are fired without further commands. At the end of the allotted time (_____ minutes or after all shots are fired by all shooters on the line), the Chief Range Officer commands:
1. _____
2. _____
3. _____

7. What if there are unfired rounds? _____
The next commands are: _____
or _____ then _____

Listen to the Range Officers tonight. Are they using the correct order? Yes No

Remainder of Section 10: Read through the rest of section 10. Make notes below for each individual section. If you have questions about a section, write them down so you can ask Pam about them.

10.1
10.1.1
10.1.4
10.1.5
10.1.6
10.2
10.3
10.4
10.7
10.7.1
10.7.2
10.10.6
10.10.6.1

Vocabulary: Check the index to find the definitions of these words. Write them here, then write each one on a notecard with the definition on the back. These are definitions that we have seen on tests in the past.

Cease Fire or Cease Firing:
Carry On:
As You Were:	